C. Yunker and Dr. W. A. Keller for representative in the national great council. ## AMERICA FIRST.

In the minds of all American citizens, native or naturalized, it should be "America first." It is on that strong platform the American people expect and demand that President Wilson and his cabinet shall stand. While it is the duty of the administration to take all effective and energetic steps for the protection of American citizens at home or abroad, on land or on sea, it is not to be overlooked that belligerents likewise have rights under international law, and that all discussions between them and the administration should be conducted on the principle of recognition of those rights, belonging to the United States no less than to foreign nations, neutral or belligerent.

While the official text of the reply from Germany has not been given out, enough of it is made public to warrant the conclusion that Germany has made concessions practically complying with American demands recently formulated. The semi-official report is that Germany, in her instructions to her submarine commanders, agrees that no merchant ships shall be sunk without first being visited and searched, with complete opportunity to all on board to escape, and that Germany, while determined to continue the use of the submarine will restrict its use. It is, however, provided that if the seized merchantman attempt to resist or to escape the modification of the restriction will not be observed.

The intimation in the reply that if a break follow in diplomatic relations the American government will be held responsible is a mere diplomatic bit of language. The real issue involved is in the safety of American citizens on merchant or passenger vessels, and in attacks upon them without warning. In the German reply there is an unbounded concession, so far as the semi-official news imparts its information.

The serious difficulty is in the fact that, while there are concessions they appear to be conditional, and if the break should come between the two countries it will not be difficult to place the responsibility upon the right shoulders. One of the conditions of the concessions appears to be in the suggestion of Germany that if this government demands of England the obligation demanded of Germany, then Germany will be more than satisfied. But the questions must not be mixed. The administration may find itself facing a more serious difficulty than was at first believed. But in so far as President Wilson upholds the dignity of the flag, the just rights of American citizens and pays due regard to the fundamental principles of international law, he will be fully entitled to have the American people standing behind him as a unit, ever hoping that peace with honor may be maintained.

The unconsoling part of being a dead hero is the lamentable fact that you never know that you are either dead or a hero.

In the matter of preparedness we suggest, again, that proper consideration be given to better roads.

Health for Sick Women

For Forty Years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Been Woman's Most Reliable Medicine—Here is More Proof.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Cranston, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and uterus, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MAYME ASBACH, North Cranston, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tried easily and had headaches much of the time and was irritable. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 609 Hove St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it."—Mrs. B. M. OSOON, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Practical Economy

Baking powders made from alum or phosphate may be bought for a trifle less than Royal Baking Powder, which is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes.

Alum powders are not only cheap, but they differ greatly in leavening power.

If a cheap baking powder is used for a fine cake and the cake turns out a failure there is a waste of costly materials worth more than a whole can of the cheap baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder produces the finest food, and its use therefore, results in an actual saving.

PUNIAVE EXPEDITION

Ordered to the Head—Second Body of Soldiers Will Probably Cross Line to Capture Glenn

Who Inevitably Glenn Springs and Killed Six Persons Last Friday.

Marathon, Texas, May 8.—Two troops of American cavalry swung southward this afternoon into the Big Bend country moving on to Glenn Springs, where three soldiers lost their lives and a little boy was shot to death in the raid by Villa bandits Friday night. The one hundred and more cavalrymen belonging to troops A and B of the Eighth cavalry and under the command of Major George T. Langhorne, two troops of the Fourth-month cavalry commanded by Colonel F. W. Shibley from Fort Clark, go for word tomorrow.

Captain Casper Cole with 23 men of troop A is now scouting the river country where the bandits recrossed the Rio Grande in their fight after the attacks on Glen Springs and Boquillas. His observations and reports of the bandits movements are to be sent to Major General Funston that a plan of future action may be developed.

Bandits in United States. Unconfirmed reports are current tonight at Boquillas that bodies of bandits are operating in numbers on the Mexican side. The number of cavalrymen under present orders to proceed towards the river indicates that no effort will be made to pursue the bandits into Mexico unless they are observed near the border. In that event a chase into Mexican territory may be attempted but might carry the American forces fifty or more miles into Chihuahua.

Lack of transportation and properly defend lines of communication preclude any extended pursuit into Mexico and military men here do not think another punitive expedition possible because of the lack of cavalrymen. The last body of Villa followers recrossed the Rio Grande Saturday morning and they are now probably nearly 40 miles south of the river.

"It would take a brigade of at least 3,000 men to form an expedition into Mexico to effectively cope with the situation," said an army officer here today just before the troops moved toward Glenn Springs. "The four troops of cavalry that are going in can do little more than offer protection to the border and there are no more troops of cavalrymen that we can draw upon."

Regiment in Vermont. "There is now, I believe, a regiment of cavalry, the Second, at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, but that is the only cavalry available. All other cavalry troops are on duty at other points along the border and in the main expedition into Chihuahua. We simply have not the men for another punitive expedition."

"You can't chase mounted bandits with infantrymen, they can't be used for the purpose. If we see any bandits near the river, I imagine we will get orders to go after them but I don't know positively. But I do know we can't go far after them with but four troops of cavalry."

It was learned here today that after the raid of Glenn Springs the bandits split their forces into two bodies, one heading toward the Rio Grande and fording the river at Boquillas and the other about 40 miles south, working southeast and recrossing the river at San Vito. It was here that they were observed by a Mrs. Hart, a school teacher, who reported that the brigade, mounted, crossed the Rio Grande about 5 o'clock Saturday night and disappeared into Mexico.

A telephone message was received tonight over a private line from the Chico Mining Company at Terlingua, 60 miles west of Glenn Springs, saying that all was quiet there.

FAMOUS SPRINTER DIES

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—Special—Iron Mask, one of the most famous sprinters of all times on the American turf, died here last night of double pneumonia. He was 8 years old and was by Disguise-Royal Rose. He was bred at Castleton and was owned by the late James H. Keene.

Iron Mask had the distinction of having raced successfully in England, United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba. His winnings on this side of the water total $22,000. In 1913 he set the world's record for six furlongs of 1:10 4-5, and reduced that mark to 1:09 3-5 at Juarez the following winter. At Juarez he also set a new American record for five and one-half furlongs at 1:03 3-5. He was well insured.

If fortune's wheel does not turn to suit you, put your shoulder to it and give it another whirl.

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Maysville

Because it's the evidence of a Maysville citizen. Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it: Mrs. Della Luneford, 328 E. Front St., Maysville, says: "I attribute kidney trouble to a strain. I had sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging-down feeling through my hips. I had dull headaches and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. Finally, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mrs. Luneford said: "Doan's Kidney Pills completely and permanently cured me and I am glad to confirm all I said in their praise before."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Luneford has twice publicly recommended. Foster-McIlburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

STANDARD PRICES
AID COMPETITION

The Stephens Bill Encourages
Rivalry in Quality.

REAL BENEFIT TO PUBLIC.

Falsely Pretense in Merchandising as Practiced by Big City Stores is Method Used to Injure Small Dealers and to Destroy Small Towns—Dishonesty Can't Benefit Consumers.

The true competition is between rival articles, a competition in excellence, which can never be maintained if, through the perversity of the retailer who cuts prices for his own ulterior purposes, the manufacturer is forced to compete in prices with goods of his own production, while the retailer recoups his losses on the cut price by the sale of other articles at, or above, their reasonable price. IT IS A FALLACY TO ASSUME THAT THE PRICE CUTTER POCKETES THE LOSS. THE PUBLIC MAKES IT UP ON OTHER PURCHASES. Fixing the price on all brands of high grade flour is a very different thing from fixing the price on one brand of high grade flour. The one means destruction of all competition and of all incentive to increased excellence. The other means heightened competition and intensified incentive to increased excellence.

This language, used by the supreme court of the state of Washington in a unanimous decision of the case of the Fisher Flouring Mills Co. versus C. A. Swanson, clearly sets forth the interest the consumer has in maintaining the highest form of competition—that of quality. Competition in price results in inferior quality and the evil of substitution. Dishonest advertisers use cut prices on standard and widely known merchandise to lure customers into their establishments, where an effort will be made to sell anonymous goods.

The genuine bargain is used as "bait" to spread the impression that all merchandise is sold at the same low margin of profit. If this impression can be created the cut rate merchant can sell unknown goods at as high a figure as his conscience will permit him to charge—and his conscience is elastic. Nearly every man's is more or less so where profits are concerned.

A Bill to Protect the Public. Representative Dan V. Stephens of Nebraska and Senator William F. Ashurst of Arizona have introduced in congress "a bill to protect the public against dishonest advertising and false pretenses in merchandising." A similar measure was introduced in the last congress by Representative Stevens of New Hampshire.

It ought to be axiomatic that the public cannot profit through dishonesty or through false pretenses. The individual may make a pecuniary gain; thieves, burglars and confidence men occasionally escape paying the penalty of their crimes and are peculiarly better off. But the public, the victims of the successful criminals, loses.

The Stephens-Ashurst bill provides for standard and uniform prices on articles sold under a trademark or special brand, with the widest possible publicity for buyers and sellers. Opponents of the bill—adherents of dishonest advertising and users of false pretenses in merchandising—have declared that it will encourage monopoly and prevent competition. They have tried to make consumers believe that it will increase the cost of living, that it will raise the price of everything sold in any sort of store.

No Monopoly Possible. The bill does not encourage monopoly, because producers who have a monopoly of any particular line or who make an agreement with a competitor to maintain prices are barred from taking advantage of the privilege of preventing discrimination by contracting for the resale of their goods at uniform prices. A monopoly, no matter how it is gained, cannot do business under the terms of the Stephens bill.

On the other hand, cutthroat competition in price has always been the chief weapon of monopoly.

The bill will not raise prices and increase the cost of living. Producers already have the right to sell their goods at whatever price they wish. The proposed legislation merely permits the producer to control the retail price, and if he puts this too high—higher than the public is willing to pay—then his goods will not be sold and he loses.

The cut price storekeeper that sells goods at a loss does not stand the loss; he passes it on to his customers. What he loses on one article is made up, or more than made up, on another. The use of cut prices on standard articles for the purpose of drawing customers into the store with the luteation of selling them something else, that is where "dishonest advertising" is found and where "false pretenses" in merchandising" injures the public.

Cut rates by big department stores enable them to kill off the small store and the small towns. Those residents of rural communities, villages and the lesser cities who want to see their home folks injured that the large cities may grow richer and larger should naturally oppose the Stephens bill. Those who desire to see their own communities prosper should support the principle of uniform standard prices.

Do the unusual if you would attract attention, but make your doings worth while.

Some people can make best their presence felt by their absence.

HIGH OFF THE BAT

The Outlook

All over the Ohio State League enthusiasm is running at high tide. Each team is confident that it is the best and each manager backs up the belief with his o. k.

With each team rejuvenated with new players it is hard to venture an opinion as to how the teams will "sock up" but it is a sure thing that the playing this year will be of a higher calibre than ever before.

With prosperity all over the country the ball clubs are sure to get their share of the coin and there is not a team in the league that should not be able to finish the season.

Line-Up For Opener

When the big game starts at League Park this afternoon the following line-ups will be in action:

PORTSMOUTH

Dills, right field.
Bauer, shortstop.
Fisher, center field.
McIntyre, left field.
Demoe, third base.
Dillhoefer, catcher.
Spencer, first base.
Hush, second base.
Jacobus or Ferguson, pitcher.

MAYSVILLE

Devore, left field.
Nixon, first base.
Schlenker, second base.
Thulin, right field.
Jones, center field.
Kelly, shortstop.
Muelter, catcher.
Douglass, third base.
McIntyre or Singleton, pitcher.

President Carr Says Outlook For Great Season Is Fine

President Joe Carr of the Ohio State League was in the city Tuesday and in conference with Manager Jimmie Jones and President Thomas M. Russell said, "I am making a swing around the circuit to see that all the teams are in good shape for the top of the bell on Wednesday. The entire circuit looks like to me and I predict the most satisfactory year in the history of the league."

Sherman May Return to Portsmouth
President Gableman Monday wired John McGraw of the Giants that he would take Ralph Sherman off his hands. Should Sherman return to the local team he would probably be used in some other spot than centerfield, which is being admirably patrolled by Fisher. Sherman is one grand ball player, and it is to be hoped that President Gableman is successful in acquiring his services.

ABANDONMENT OF SUBMARINE CODE

Accepted By Wilson—Kaiser Informed He Cannot Decline Policy Toward Great Britain.

Washington, May 8—A note cabled by Secretary Lansing to Ambassador Gerard today for delivery to the Berlin foreign office informs the German government that the United States accepts its "declaration of its abandonment" of its former submarine policy, and now relies upon a scrupulous execution of the altered policy to remove the principal danger of an interruption of the good relations existing between the two countries.

With this acceptance is coupled formal notice to Germany that the United States cannot for a moment entertain, much less discuss, a suggestion that respect for German naval authorities for the rights of citizens of the United States on the high seas should in the slightest degree be made contingent upon the conduct of any other government affecting the rights of neutrals and non-combatants. This is in reply to the concluding statement in the last German note, to the effect that while submarine commanders had been ordered to sink no peaceful freight or passenger carrying ships without warning or without safety for passengers and crew, the German government would serve to itself complete liberty of decision unless the United States was successful in its efforts to break the British blockade.

Secretary Lansing issued a statement tonight saying that the greater part of Germany's answer to the demand of the United States was devoted to matters which the American government could not discuss with the Berlin Government, but he considered Germany had "yielded to our representations" and that "we can have no reason to quarrel with her," so long as the altered policy is lived up to.

Mr. Lansing's statement made public after the note was on its way to Berlin, follows:

"The greater part of the German answer is devoted to matters which this government cannot discuss with the German government. The only questions of right which can be discussed with the government are those arising out of its action or out of our own, and in no event those questions which are the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the United States and any other country.

"The essence of the answer is that Germany yields to our representations with regard to the rights of merchant ships and non-combatants on the high seas and engages to observe the recognized rules of international law governing naval warfare in using her submarines against merchant ships. So long as she lived up to this altered policy, we can have no reason to quarrel with her on that score, though the losses resulting from the violation of American rights by German submarine commanders operating under the former policy will have to be settled.

"While our difference with Great Britain cannot form a subject of discussion with Germany it should be stated that in our dealings with the British government we are acting, as we are unquestionably bound to act in view of the explicit treaty engagements with that government. We have treaty obligations as to the manner in which matters in dispute between the two governments are to be handled. We offered to assume mutually similar obligations with Germany, but the offer was declined. When the subject in dispute is a continuing menace to American lives it is doubtful whether such obligations apply unless the menace is removed during the pendency of the proceedings."

INFLUENCE OF WOMEN

"Women are a wonderful influence in the lives of most great men," says the Washington Post, and upon women rests the responsibility for family health. To her they look for help in times of sickness, and the attention of every wife and mother in this vicinity is called to the rare combination of the three oldest tonics known, which Druggist Peck Drug Co., guarantees in Vinol—iron for the blood, beef peptone for strength, and the body-building, medicinal properties of cod livers. It will pay overworked, weak, run-down people, delicate children and feeble old people to try it.

The successful man is he who puts the shoulder of others to the wheel.

It takes a woman chunchee to steer a baby buggy through a crowd.

The wise man turns up his sleeves and goes after a job, while the fool sits around and waits for the job to come to him.

THE YUELL MEETINGS

It is not an extravagant statement to make, to say that Mr. Yuell made an address last night at the throwers Warehouse which was the equal of any address, either sermon or lecture, the writer has heard given in this city. It was the general consensus of all that for the inspiration, received and the information gathered from this address it was a master's effort. Mr. Yuell was led to prepare this sermon from the inspiration received from that wonderful poem, "The Lost Chord." This and other poems he recited with wonderful effect. His text was Christ's statement to the church at Ephesus which reads: "But I have this against thee because thou didst leave thy first love." He then spoke of some of the things which the people of today had lost. His illustrations of these neglected or lost convictions and beliefs were serious in themselves. In speaking of the light manner in which so many treat the fact of their immortality, he illustrated the statement concerning Jesus, who brought immortality to light. He described a sunrise as seen above the cloud in California. It was no common description. As he spoke you could imagine you saw the gorgeous coloring and the rising clouds as he saw it from the mountain himself.

Before his sermon, Mr. Vearse sang "No Room for Jesus" and then rendered another effective solo at the close. Rev. Williams of the M. E. Church, South, offered the closing prayer.

Mr. Yuell announced for his subject tonight "A Weeping God."

Mr. Yuell will give an illustrated lecture on Saturday evening on "Sun, Italy and Her Romance." This is one of his regular Chautauqua lectures and has always been well received and greatly enjoyed. In preparing himself for these lectures including the expense of travel and the purchase of picture films and slides, he has spent $25,000. He therefore comes prepared to give the very best. There may be those in this city who have not come to realize that this is no small meeting which these evangelists are holding in this city. Many are enjoying them and are coming nightly. The Christian people of this city should know of the character of these services. Those of a literary turn of mind should be informed of the fact that in these addresses of Mr. Yuell's there is a constant drawing from the field of literature showing that the evangelist is at home in this field as well as in the teachings of the Bible.

There will be a prayer meeting at the office of the Growers Warehouse before the regular service tonight. All the people of the community are invited to these services.

Of Const Artillery Are Ordered To Mexican Border By Washington—Troops Will Assist Militia of Three States Patrol Border.

Washington, May 9.—With 8,000 additional troops under orders for the Mexican border, including 4,000 National Guardsmen from Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, administration officials left tonight that immediate steps had been taken to prevent further raiding of American border towns by bandits. Meanwhile the final outcome of the conference at El Paso between Major-General Scott and General Obregon, the Carranza War Minister, was awaited with considerable anxiety.

President Wilson and his cabinet discussed the Mexican situation today, but the President had authorized the new troop orders before his advisers gathered. General Scott and General Funston recommended early today that additional forces be sent to the border. After an exchange of telegrams, General Funston suggested that the National Guard from the three states named be called out in addition to the sending of all the remaining regular infantry to join his command. His suggestion was promptly approved and orders dispatched.

Cabinet Possibilities
Some members of the cabinet were frankly pessimistic after the meeting over the delay of General Obregon in ratifying the agreement he negotiated with General Scott covering cooperative border operations including those of General Pershing's expedition. Reports from Mexico City indicated that the agreement had been approved by General Carranza and officials here were at loss to understand Obregon's action. No word from General Scott came to enlighten them. It was clearly indicated in all quarters that there would be no change in the policy of the Washington government; that the troops would stay in Mexico until the border was safe from incursions; that raiders would be pursued across the line every time they became active and that the whole strength of the National Guard would be used, if necessary, to protect the border.

Secretary Baker said the question of calling guardsmen from other states into the service was not under immediate consideration. It was learned, however, that General Funston already had been supplied with all papers, forms and instructions necessary to muster into service the guardsmen of all states near the border, and that ordnance and quartermaster stores to outfit all such troops on a war basis are held at convenient points for quick distribution.

Wants 150,000 Men
Secretary Baker refused to discuss reports that General Funston had urged that he be given a total of 150,000 men to maintain the border guard. It is possible that the border commander mentioned that figure as the number of men he thought necessary to insure protection of all border towns and ranches by providing an adequate guard for each. The secretary said General Pershing's force in Mexico was able to take care of itself in any emergency.

Including the troops ordered out today there will be nearly 45,000 soldiers perhaps 50,000 along the border or in Mexico according to the best available figures here.
